

Building Our Future Together Through Legacy Giving

What Is Legacy Giving?

Legacy giving is planning how your assets can continue to make a meaningful impact to the community even after you have passed on. One powerful way to create a lasting legacy is through wakaf – an Islamic endowment that provides perpetual benefits. Unlike one-time donations, wakaf creates a sustainable source of funding that continues to generate returns and support causes indefinitely.

Why Legacy Giving Matters To You?

As Muslims, we are encouraged to leave behind meaningful contributions that benefit us in the Hereafter. Through legacy giving, you can:

- Create sadaqah jaariyah (ongoing charity) for perpetual rewards
- Ensure your assets are gifted according to your wishes and syariah compliant
- Make a lasting community impact
- Continue Prophet Muhammad s.a.w's tradition of giving

How Can Legacy Giving Bring Value To The Community?

Your legacy gift helps build a stronger, more resilient community by:

- Providing sustainable funding for mosques and madrasahs
- Supporting the development of religious teachers (asatizah)
- Enabling socio-religious programs that uplift the Muslim community
- Ensuring Islamic institutions can continue serving the community

Ways To Give

You can plan your legacy giving through several methods:

CPF Nomination

- Nominate a portion of your CPF savings
- Simple process that can be done online
- No limit on nomination amount
- Considered a form of hibah (gift); need not be distributed in accordance with Faraid

Insurance Nomination

- Nominate insurance policy proceeds
- Can be amended as needed
- Considered a form of hibah (gift); need not be distributed in accordance with Faraid

Wasiat (Islamic Will)

- Allocate up to one-third of your estate
- Must be properly documented and witnessed
- Allows you to specify your exact wishes

Each of these methods provides a structured way to contribute to community funds while ensuring your legacy continues to benefit others for generations to come.

When the son of Adam dies, his actions come to an end except for three; sadaqah jaariyah, knowledge which brought benefit, and a pious child who makes supplication for him.

Legacy Giving via Wakaf (Perpetualness)		Legacy Giving via other funds
Purpose	Wakaf Masyarakat Singapura (WMS)	OurMasjidSG	OurMadrasahSG
	To fund future needs of religious institutions including land lease renewals, professionalise our Asatizah sector including Singapore College of Islamic Studies and build community support fund in times of crisis	A community initiative to support mosque operations such as employee salaries, repairs and maintenance and social programmes	A community initiative to support our local full-time madrasahs. Sustain madrasahs' administration and operational needs, as well as student and teacher development
	Sustainability
	Perpetual (Invested to generate returns)

Why Do We Need These Funds?

Existing community funds are currently stretched to meet the immediate needs of running our institutions. Mosque Building and Mendaki Fund (MBMF) and mosque donation box contributions are projected over time to decline as our population ages.

Wakafs generate long-term returns, complementing existing community funds such as MBMF and mosque donation boxes.

Wakaf Masyarakat Singapura (WMS)

Long-term fund to support major expenses such as land lease renewals in the next 30-50 years.

Tabung Masjid

Funds mosque operations (e.g., bills, utilities, employee salaries)

MBMF

Builds new mosques & upgrades existing mosques

Who Can Contribute To The Funds?

Anyone can contribute to these community funds, regardless of age or background. Muslims can contribute for themselves or on behalf of departed loved ones, creating ongoing charity (sadaqah jaariyah) that honours their memory and continues to generate spiritual rewards in the Hereafter.
