<tr><td>Mode of CCP</td><td>Train-and-Place (With Commitment to Hire). Trainees will be co-sponsored by a participating healthcare organisation and will serve their bond at their sponsoring organisation after training completion.</td></tr>
<tr><td>Sector</td><td>Healthcare</td></tr>
<tr><td>Description of job roles under CCP</td><td>Nursing is an exciting and fulfilling career, encompassing autonomous and collaborative care of individuals of all ages, families, groups and communities, sick or well in all settings. Nursing includes the promotion of health, prevention of illness, and care of the sick, the less abled and terminally ill. Advocacy, promotion of a safe environment, research, participation in shaping health policy and in patient and health systems management, and education are also key nursing roles.

Registered nurses will perform direct nursing care, assist with medical procedures and monitor patients' progress. As a nurse, you can work in diverse healthcare institutions such as acute hospitals, community hospitals, polyclinics, home care and long-term residential care facilities.</td></tr>
<tr><td>Funding support and estimated CCP monthly training allowance</td><td>Course fees will be fully sponsored, with funding support by the Skills and Workforce Development Agency (SWDA), the Ministry of Health (MOH) and a co-sponsoring organisation for trainees to undergo the two-year Bachelor of Science (Nursing) programme at the National University of Singapore.

Trainees will receive training allowances ranging from $2,700 to $3,280 per month, pegged to their years of prior work experience, throughout the training period. The monthly training allowances that trainees will receive are outlined in the table below:
