What If Adults Disappeared for a Day?

Freedom or chaos? Adventure or disaster?

Our roving reporters asked students to imagine what would happen if every adult vanished for just one day. The answers might surprise you!

By: Eng Shuen Yi Ignatius (5F), Cheng Shane Wern (5G), Lim Jia Xuan (5H), Tan Jie Lin (5L)

1) If adults disappeared for a day, I would go to the theme park whenever I wanted! At the theme park, children would be exploring and having the time of their lives, especially on the roller coasters. The rides would all be free since the adults aren't around to collect the fees for the rides! In addition, since the roads would be clear, we could even have a country-wide game of hide and seek. We just have to be sure not to get lost.

Erica Miscellaneo, 6F

2) I would start off feeling eager and thrilled! There would be no one to nag at me! I would not need to attend school! However, after a few hours, I might start to realise how important adults are. I would be stuck at home, not knowing how to get anywhere without my parents taking me. There would not be anyone driving buses and taxis too. Oh no! That means I might not be able to go out and have fun.

Skyler Genesis Cheong Tze, 5E

3) It would be very chaotic as there would not be any adults to maintain order and keep the situation under control.

Ngoh Zi Ting Arielle Claire, 5H

4) I would be happy as I could do anything I want to do!

Ling Qi Ting Nellwyn, 5H

5) Firstly, I would be over the moon! Next, I would buy some snacks and everything that I want.

Chua Jia Min Charlotte, 4C

6) To begin, I would be ecstatic because I would not have to go to school! Even if I did go, there would be no teachers, so we could just play and play. However, soon, I would get hungry, but there would be no one to cook since the canteen vendors are adults too! I do think that it might become boring because there would not be anyone nagging at me to work. At night, I would be so terrified that I would need to have a sleepover with my friends.

Avril Cheng Yiqing, 4D

7) If adults disappeared for one day, the world would become chaotic. Essential services would stop, young children would need help, and older children would have to take responsibility until the adults returned. Yikes!

Li Zhicheng, 5F

8) A world without adults might seem exciting because there would be no rules and no homework! However, problems would soon arise as no one would be there to cook, provide medical care, or respond to emergencies.

Aaron Ng, 5F

REALISTIC BANANA CHOCOLATE CAKE POPS

Do you like cake but aren't too fond of fruits? If yes, then this is for you! It looks like a banana; it feels like a banana, but it isn't a banana! This super realistic treat is roughly the size of your palm. Upon taking a closer look, however, you may find it suspiciously smooth.

I would call the Realistic Banana Chocolate Cake Pops a match made in heaven. Sold in a box of six, it has the appearance of a healthy fruit that your parents would approve of. Then, the moment you bite into it... BOOM! The thin, crispy layer of chocolate gives way to a lusciously rich mouthful of chocolate cake. After gobbling up one, I could almost hear the second one calling my name. I popped them into my mouth one after another, and, before I knew it, half the box was gone.

Although some people may find the outer layer of chocolate a little artificial-tasting, I would still highly recommend these cake pops for their novelty and delicious flavour. They may be expensive at $29.90 from Bob the Baker Boy, but they are worth every cent. Give your parents a cheeky surprise with a treat that looks healthier than it really is!

NUGGET ICE CREAM

TAN JIE LIN (5L)

At first sight, you are greeted by a tempting box of nuggets with the Swensen's logo on it. Its bright red packaging and striking design are sure to catch your attention! As you take your first sniff, the sweet fragrance of vanilla fills your nostrils. Expecting juicy, tender chicken, you take a bite. Instead, you are greeted with a smooth, creamy burst of vanilla ice cream wrapped in a crispy coating. For a moment, my brain insisted I was eating chicken, while my taste buds knew better. The icy centre instantly refreshes you, followed by a satisfying crunch. The realistic-looking shell and the icy centre create a delightful surprise, as if your taste buds were playing tricks on you.

The ice-cream nuggets are not too sweet, and the crispy coating adds a hint of savoury flavour, creating just the right balance of sweetness and richness. Although they are slightly pricey at $8.88 for six pieces, they are definitely worth trying. I have never tasted anything like them before, and they truly surprised me. Every bite makes me smile as it feels like I am solving the same delicious mystery all over again. If you're looking for a dessert that tricks your eyes but delights your taste buds, Swensen's Ice-Cream Nuggets are definitely for you. Just don't let your eyes fool you!

CHOCOLATE STONES

CAITLYN YUN JINGXUAN (5J)

Have you ever wished that you could eat something... different? Well, here is a treat that is both creative and perfect for you! At first glance, they look like pebbles or even food for my pet terrapin. To my surprise, however, they are colourful chocolate stones! Yes, this snack is none other than Bake With Yen's Chocolate Stones!

At a reasonable price of $6.90 for a 250g bag, this sweet treat is simply irresistible! I found myself unable to stop gobbling them up. Their realistic appearance and satisfying crunch make every bite a delightful surprise. Although these chocolate stones are mouth-watering, they can become a little dry if you eat too many at once. This delightful confection is not to be missed. I highly recommend giving it a try! What are you waiting for? Hurry and grab some to munch on now!

What If We Asked Our Teachers? ...?

From reliving their school days to imagining talking stationery and midnight lessons, our teachers share their memories, wisdom, and wonderfully unexpected ideas.

1. What if you were a student again? What would you do differently?

I'd ask more questions without worrying about looking silly. Curiosity is a superpower, and the "wrong" questions often lead to the most interesting discoveries.

2. What was a rule that helped you when you were young?

"Finish what you start." It taught me that the hardest part of anything is pushing through the middle, not the beginning or the end.

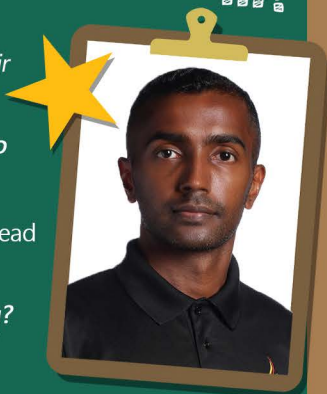

3. What do you think matters more now than before?

Knowing how to learn, not just what to learn. The world changes so fast that adaptability and curiosity matter far more than memorising facts.

4. What if school started at night?

Imagine stargazing during science lessons or writing mystery stories under the moonlight! Night school would feel magical, though I suspect everyone would fall asleep after they have had their snack break or supper. Hahahahaha.

Mr. Vik

1. What if you were a student again? What would you do differently?

I would do all I can to keep fit and athletic. I want to create a class of "superhero" classmates!

2. What do you think matters more now than before?

My own health and my vocation as a parent, a husband, a father, and a teacher so that I can put others before myself.

3. What if your stationery could talk? What would it say to you?

"I can create anything out of your imagination; use me wisely, and psst... don't break me, pleaseee!"

4. What if school started at night?

Let the pyjamas and kopi party begin!

Mr. James Chan

MRS. ELIZABETH LOW

1. What if you were a student again? What would you do differently?

I had such a fun student life! I guess I would have liked to spend more time with my friends and not just focus on all my various after-school activities.

2. What was a rule that helped you when you were young?

"I am better than nobody, but nobody is better than me."
My coach taught me that to stay humble and hardworking.

3. What do you think matters more now than before?

Being human: to always be kind. Do what you can with what you have, where you are.

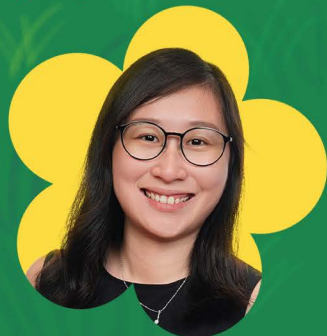

4. What if your stationery could talk? What would it say to you?

"Stop spinning me round and round! I'm getting dizzy!"

MS. PHUA YING JIE

1. What if you were a student again? What would you do differently?

I would spend more time exploring activities and experiences that develop my strengths and interests. This would help me discover my purpose and make confident choices about my future.

2. What was a rule that helped you when you were young?

Setting goals and putting in the effort, discipline, and responsibility to achieve them.

3. What if your stationery could talk? What would it say to you?

My pens would tell me, "Don't forget to use us for your journal time!" I enjoy penning down my day-to-day thoughts and experiences in a journal during my free time.

4. What if school started at night?

That would be cool but not ideal. I believe that being in the sun in the daytime gives us much more energy and positivity for school!

BILINGUAL WEEK 2026: HEAR ME OUT!

KYAN TAN CHUN HONG (5H), CAITLYN YUN JINGXUAN (5J)

This year's Bilingual Week, themed "Hear Me Out", was packed with fun, laughter and exciting opportunities to share ideas! Throughout the week, students confidently voiced their opinions, listened to their friends, and took part in a wide range of activities. From fascinating recess sharing sessions to interactive Padlet activities, there was something for everyone to enjoy.

Using both English and Chinese, Taonanites expressed their thoughts through authentic, hands-on experiences, including playing games at our very own Skillz On Wheelz. These exciting activities made learning both languages meaningful, enjoyable and full of discovery.

"My favourite part was the 'This or That' activity," shared Javian Lee (5K).

Another favourite was the annual book fair. With a brand-new selection of books each year, reasonably priced titles, and the option for parents to pre-order, it was no surprise that many students left with exciting new reads.

Bilingual Week was truly an unforgettable adventure filled with learning, sharing and discovery. We can't wait to see what exciting surprises next year's Bilingual Week will bring!

P5 CAMP - DIARY OF A CAMPING KID

OLIVIA CHUA KHAI YEE (5J), OIA VICTORIA TAN (5E)

Day 1:

Dear Diary,

I am finally at the P5 camp! I woke up at 5.30 a.m. because I could not contain my excitement. This morning, the bus dropped us off at the campsite. We left our bags in the dormitories and made our way to the briefing room, where we learned about the camp rules. Then we had lunch. My teacher, Mrs Low, said that mealtime was her favourite part of the day because she enjoyed seeing us cheer, chat and laugh together. It was also one of the rare moments when the teachers got to relax with one another. I participated in team-building activities, low elements and outdoor cooking, and they really brought our class together! Yawn, I'm exhausted. I hope tomorrow will be as exciting as today!

Day 2:

Dear Diary,

I woke up this morning feeling refreshed despite the fact that I had spent the night sleeping on the floor. After a nice breakfast and morning warm-up, my class completed the nature walk and high elements. The high elements were not without their challenges, but we supported and cheered each other on. Finally, it was time for the highlight – the campfire – which was a huge success. I sat next to Evangeline, who turned to me and said, "The campfire performance was so much fun! I got to watch the other classes' performances. I bonded with my classmates while preparing the item!" There was dancing, laughing and singing. Our joy made the fire glow even brighter. The only downside? No marshmallows. Otherwise, this is by far the best night of my life.

Day 3:

Dear Diary,

Today is our last day of camp, and we had one last activity on hand – building a roller coaster! Not the real one, of course. We made it out of paper, balloon sticks, and a lot of tape. A lot. We had so much fun as we tried to make the structure strong. Thinking back, I realised that we got to experience pure joy, some pain, and a glimpse of nature. This was unfortunately followed by a somewhat sad departure from camp. Although I must admit that I could not wait to go home and sleep on my comfy bed and enjoy the air-conditioning again, I was sad the camp had ended. The P5 camp really taught me a lot and helped our class bond, starting many new friendships.

WHAT IF YOU COULD IMPRESS SOMEONE IN FIVE MINUTES?

Ready to amaze your family and friends? Follow these simple step-by-step guides to perform a clever trick or create an amazing illusion to surprise someone.

WATER INTO ICE IN 60 SECONDS LEE YA ZI MELISSA (5G)

You will need:

- A transparent cup
- An opaque cup
- About 100ml of water
- 2 ice cubes
- A sponge

Steps before the show:

1. First, put the sponge in the opaque cup. Make sure it is stuck firmly to the bottom of the cup.
2. Next, put the ice cubes on the sponge.
3. Pour 100ml of water into the transparent cup.

Now, you may start with the magic!

During the show:

1. Pour the water from the transparent cup into the opaque cup.
2. Ask your audience to say the magic word (e.g. Abracadabra!)
3. Finally, tip the opaque cup towards the transparent cup. Only ice will be poured out, not water!

Magician's Tip!

Do not pour too much water (e.g. 200ml) as the cup might overflow!

TELL ME WHY!

The sponge absorbs the water poured and only the ice will flow out when the cup is tipped. This creates the illusion that the water has turned into ice!

MIAO LIYUN
MEREDITH (5F)

THE MAGIC RAINBOW WATER OLIVIA CHUA KHAI YEE (5J)

You will need:

- 2 plastic transparent cups
- A half-filled clear plastic bottle of water
- 3 different colours of food colouring (e.g. red, yellow, blue)

Steps before the show:

1. Add one drop of food colouring (e.g. red) into a plastic cup.
2. Add another drop of a different coloured food colouring (e.g. yellow) into the second plastic cup.
3. Unscrew the cap of the plastic bottle.
4. Add a drop of the last food colouring (e.g. blue) to the inside of the cap, at the edge.
5. Place the cap back on the bottle but do not screw tight.

You are ready!

During the show:

1. Remove the bottle cap. Pour some water into the first cup. The water will change to red.
2. Repeat this for the other cup. The water will change to yellow.
3. Screw the cap back on the bottle fully and shake the bottle well. The water in the bottle will change to blue.

Magician's Tip!

Use a dropper or syringe to better control the amount of food colouring and where to place it.

TELL ME WHY!

Do not screw the cap in fully to prevent the food colouring getting onto the rim of the bottle!

As You Step into Tomorrow

While our P6 students prepare to spread their wings, we invited our school leaders and teachers to reflect on two important questions: What kind of person should our students become in a changing world? and What is one thing every P6 student should remember before the PSLE?

Here are their heartfelt messages for the journey ahead.

ETHAN CHAN(5J), JOLENE QUAH(5F), SANDRA QUEK(5K), JOELY SOH(5G),
FINN TAN(5K), NICOLE YENG(5G)

https://

Mdm. Poh Qinyu (Principal)

While examinations serve as important milestones, remember that your journey is about far more than that. Over the past six years, you have been growing holistically and learning through the four pillars of learning – attention, engagement, feedback and well-being – which support how your brain learns and develops. May you continue to stay curious and embrace lifelong learning wherever your journey leads. As you step into a world shaped by rapid advances in technology, global conflicts and sustainability challenges, I encourage you to embody the 21st Century Competencies to imagine and create new possibilities. Be someone who gives back to the community and makes a positive difference in the world!

Mrs. Yvonne Tan (Vice-Principal)

As you step into a fast-changing world shaped by smart technology like AI and complex global events, remember to use your knowledge thoughtfully to serve others. Do not worry about your upcoming exams, just stay calm, stay focussed, and do your personal best. As you carry the wonderful memories of our 120th anniversary celebrations with you, trust in your own strength. Wishing all our Primary 6 students every success! Once a TaoNanite, always a TaoNanite.

Miss Lam May Fong (HOD English)

Always be kind to yourself and others. Take responsibility for your actions. When things get tough, do not give up. The world will constantly change, so stay curious and adaptable. Remember the people and opportunities that shaped you – and one day, give back in ways big or small.

The world is always changing. Embrace change with courage while holding on to values like love and responsibility. Stay curious, read widely, and never stop growing. Treasure your family, believe in yourself, and be lifelong learners who care for others.

You are never alone. Your parents, teachers, friends, and loved ones are cheering you on every step of the way. Give it your best, knowing that every effort counts. Wishing you all the very best for your PSLE!

Mdm. Wendy Looi

Mdm. Deng Min

愿同学们成为有定力的终身学习者, 心怀好奇与善良, 按自己的节奏成长, 勇敢走向属于自己的未来。小六毕业会考(PSLE)不是你人生的标签, 只是成长之路的一个脚印。备考中的勇气、努力与坚持, 比分数更珍贵。稳住自己, 沉着应对, 你已经值得骄傲!

Thrive, stay curious, and never stop picking up new skills. AI can give answers in seconds, but your biggest mission is to be a truth detective! Use AI as a helpful learning buddy, but always check the facts before deciding what is true. Make choices that are kind, responsible, and ethical to help make the world a better place.

Mdm. Sharon Tan

Dear P6 Warriors, you have overcome many challenges to reach this final lap. Be proud of your effort! Wishing you all the very best for the PSLE!

Mdm. Shen Pinxiu

Stay curious, be kind, and never stop learning. The world will keep changing, but people who ask good questions, have a growth mindset, and care about others will always find new possibilities. Your character will take you further than your academic results ever can.

The PSLE is important, but it does not define who you are or what you can become. Walk in with confidence, stay calm, do your best. Remember that every challenge helps you grow into someone stronger, wiser, and more resilient.

I hope you will grow up to be courageous, adaptable, and compassionate people who are ready to face change and new challenges with confidence. Good grades may open doors, but qualities like kindness, resilience, integrity, and the courage to lift others up are what truly make a person shine.

PSLE is only one stop on your journey, not your whole future. As the saying goes, "Success is not final; failure is not fatal." What matters most is having the courage to keep going, the resilience to bounce back, and the confidence to believe in yourself. You've got this!

Mr. Sukirman

Mdm. Rasheeda

In our ever-changing world, never lose your curiosity. Dream big, be brave, and embrace new possibilities. Keep growing, adapting, and believing that every challenge is a chance to learn.

The PSLE is a milestone, not your destination. Walk into it with courage and walk out with grace. Let kindness shape your heart and perseverance guide your way. Believe in yourself — the best chapters of your story are still waiting to be written. Shine on!

Be adaptable and never give up when challenges come your way. Doing well in school is important, but so are kindness and compassion. These are the qualities that will help you make a difference wherever you go.

To our P6 students: Do your best and be proud of every step you take. There may be bumps along the way, but if you stumble, get back up, keep moving forward, and keep believing in yourself. Your adventure is only just beginning!

Mdm. Natalia
